

St Catherine's 120th Birthday Weekend

This year St Catherine's Church is 120 years old.

Just imagine all the weddings, baptisms, Sunday services, festivals, concerts, school visits, "Amens" and cups of tea that amounts to.

St Catherine's has been a sign of God's grace and love for 120 years and holds within its walls hundreds of personal stories and prayers.

We are delighted to be celebrating this special birthday and would love everyone to come along to our birthday events.

Telegraph Hill festival

Looking ahead
to next year...

The 2013 Telegraph Hill Festival will be held next year from Friday 8th to Sunday 24th March 2013. Longer than before—starting with the Open Studio Weekend, then "fringe" events in venues other than the Church and Centre.

The Community Show will be the weekend of 16th and 17th March, with the finale weekend—Craft Fair, Cake Competition and a day of activity in the Park—on the 23rd and 24th.

So much more opportunity for anyone and everyone to use the Festival to make their ideas come to life. You bring the inspiration and make the event or activity happen—the Festival organisation will support you with publicity and put you in touch with what other assistance you might need.

If you would like to put together an event, or volunteer to help in any way - anything from shifting chairs, to stewarding, to delivering the programmes in the month before - contact Vanessa Lloyd the Festival Chair through the Festival website or pick up a form at the Telegraph Hill Centre or The Hill Station.

The Community Show Registration Weekend will probably be 5th and 6th January—be sure to check nearer the time.

See www.thehill.org.uk/festival for full details or join the Facebook Group Craft Collective is a group of local designer-makers who display and sell their products or run workshops at the Telegraph Hill Centre 11.00am to 4.00pm four times a year.

The group is an opportunity for creative people living in the area to share their experiences and skills with like-minded people and support each other in achieving success within their respective fields.

The group holds meetings at least once per month to plan events and share ideas and members work together to publicise and run events including craft fairs, community projects and craft workshops. They have recently initiated the first of their Sewing Workshops which will be developed further for the New Year.

All of the designer-makers in the group use traditional or contemporary craft skills to create innovative or unusual hand-made items that cannot be found on the high street. We currently offer a range of textiles (e.g. screen-printed or patchwork), hand-knitted and glass resin-based jewellery, cross-stitch samplers, lino-cut prints, hand-made books and stationery.

Come and join us for our Christmas Fair on Saturday 15 December from 11.00am to 4.00pm for lovely gifts, mulled wine and mince pies and other treats, mini-workshops, live music, photos taken in the glittering craft forest and piñatas for the kids to break!

If you are interested in attending events or joining us, contact thcraftcollective@gmail.com or phone 07854 364 120.

From 30th November to 2nd December 2012, the Telegraph Hill Centre will stage Baves in the Wood.

Baves in the Wood tells the story of Jack & Jill, two young orphans with a fortune and a scheming uncle. Will kindly Granny Smith protect our babes from their evil uncle, the Sheriff of Mottingham? Will Robin Good save the day, rescue our babes and win the hand of Marian?

Come and see the show to find out!
Tickets are £12 (£6 Concessions)

Refreshments in the Centre Lounge and (for the evening performances) a licensed cash bar

BOOK NOW - <http://thcentre.ticketsource.co.uk>

Some tickets available on the door but please book in advance as the Panto sells out fast.

This show is a fundraiser for Telegraph Hill Centre, and all proceeds go towards refurbishment of the Centre.

Common Growth won't let the cold and dark winter months stand in their way! They are very excited that Louise from Grow Wild will be setting up a field kitchen in the garden on Sunday 25th November for a soup making workshop! What better way to warm yourself up after a winter walk or even a spot of gardening! So do drop in and taste some deliciously healthy soup, from locally sourced ingredients such as leeks and herbs picked straight from the Common Growth garden.

Louise will be there from 2-3pm to welcome you into the garden which is next to Franklin House on the corner of Sandbourne and Jerningham Roads—SE4 2NT.

This will now be a regular event, and so far other dates planned are December 9th, 23rd and 30th and 6th January. Check for notices on the gate or follow the links through the Bold Vision website—
